Hague,

Hague, July 11, N. S. On Sunday Evening his Highneſs the Prince of Orange aſſembled the Council of State, upon certain Advice, that the very Evening of the late Battle the French had detached a conſiderable Body of Troops towards Antwerp, which looks as if they intended to beſiege either Breda or Bergen-op-zoom. Upon this Intelligence, Orders were ſent immediately to almoſt all the Troops about theſe Provinces, to join the Corps under the Prince of Saxe Hilbourghauſen, who is at preſent retired within the Lines near Bergen-op-zoom: By theſe Means, and the Troops that are ſent from Zealand, he will have under his Command 22 Battalions and 14 Squadrons, till he can be reinforced from the main Army. Orders have been likewiſe ſent to cut the Dykes in the Neighbourhood of Bergen-op-zoom; and leſt the Enemy ſhould attempt any Thing againſt Bois-le-Duc, the Inundations are already completed about that Town. We hear that a Body of 24,000 French had appeared in the Neighbourhood of Sandvliet; and that it was expected that Place would ſoon be attacked in Form. There are ſeveral Letters here, that mention the entire Deſtruction by Fire of the Store Houſes and Magazines belonging to the Navy at Barcelona. The firſt Diviſion of the Heſſian Troops, taken into the Service of the Republick, are expected To-morrow or next Day at Nimmeguen, and that the Troops from Wurtzberg were to ſet out by Water as Yeſterday.

Admiralty Office, July 7.

On Saturday the 20th of laſt Month, a ſmall Engliſh Privateer fell in with the Squadron under the Command of Sir Peter Warren, and informed him, that on the 17th and 18th he had chaſed 15 or 20 little Coaſters, laden with Stores for the King of Spain, into Sedere, a ſmall Bay to the Weſt of Cape Ortegal, where they might be very eaſily taken or deſtroyed; Sir Peter ſent away the Viper and Hunter Dogger along with the Privateer, to perform this Service, and in two Days they rejoined the Squadron, with a ſmall Privateer, Prize, and five little Barks, laden chiefly with Iron, Rozin, and other Trifles, having burnt 28 more of the ſame Sort, which they could not conveniently bring off, and deſtroyed a three Gun Battery.

On Sunday the 21ſt, the Admiral ſteering with his Squadron for Cape Finiſterre, fell in with ten Sail (ſix of them nearer the Land than the other four) to which they immediately gave Chace. The Admiral concluded they were all French, and therefore kept ſome of the Squadron cloſe upon a Wind after the four, while himſelf with the reſt, went in Purſuit of the ſix. In a ſhort Time one of the four made a Signal for knowing each other, and proved to be his Majeſty's Ships the Prince Frederick, Briſtol, and Centurion, with a Portugueſe Brig they had ſpoke with. They followed the ſix other Ships, which were Merchants, into a Bay a little to Windward of the Iſland of Siſarga, where the Enemy's Ships anchored very regularly, not imagining we ſhould follow them; but finding their Miſtake, they cut their Cables and run aſhore, ſet Fire to one of the Ships, and a very fine Brig, which blew up before our Boats could get on board. The Ship which blew up was the Etoile, a Man of War of 46 Guns, and about 400 Men, came from Port Louis with a Convoy of ten Sail of Merchant Ships, ſix of which parted Company in the Weſt-Indies. As they had not ſet Fire to the four Merchant-ſhips, the Admiral ordered the Monmouth, Portland, and Ambuſcade, to anchor, and next Day they got them all off, without having received the leaſt Damage. They are all thought to be pretty valuable, one alone of them being ſaid to be worth 45,000 l. and are come ſafe into Plymouth, under Convoy of the Portland.

His Majeſty's Ship the Lyon is arrived at Plymouth with four more of the St. Domingo Fleet, which he took alone within 12 or 16 Leagues W. S. W. of Belle Iſle.

On the 2d Inſtant his Majeſty's Sloop the Jamaica, cruiſing in the Channel, ſaw a Two-Maſt Veſſel at Anchor between St. Alban's Head and Peverel Point, which appeared to be a French Privateer, waiting for three Sloops that were coming round St. Alban's; the Jamaica thereupon made towards the Privateer, who immediately cut her Cable, and made the beſt of her Way to Sea, and was chaſed by the Jamaica, who came up with her at Ten o'Clock, when ſhe ſtruck, and proved to be the Renard of Dieppe, of one Carriage and five Swivel Guns, and 29 Men.

On the 2d Inſtant his Majeſty's Sloop the Falcon, being on a Cruize off Mount's Bay, ſaw a large Ship to Windward, to which ſhe gave Chace, and at Eleven o'Clock came up with and took her; ſhe proved to be a French Ship called the Joſeph from Newfoundland, bound to Havre de Grace, of 14 Carriage Guns, 37 Men, loaded with Mud Fiſh; and ſhe has brought her into Plymouth.
